

Writing & Editing Volunteer

Are you someone with many ideas on your mind? Interested in journalism? Or simply like discussing the topic of women in the field of economics? The Women in Economics Initiative (WiE) is looking for a new team member to join our Writing & Editing team.

WiE is a non-profit, volunteer-run organisation that was established to advance gender equality in the field of economics. Our goal is to encourage equal opportunity and balanced representation of genders in the economics profession across the academic, business and public sectors. WiE does this by holding events, building partnerships with like-minded organisations and individuals, publishing the WiE Index, and releasing content such as social media posts and articles.

As a volunteer member of the Writing & Editing team, you will be a part of an imaginative and energetic team of young creators who meet once a month to brainstorm and create insightful content for our members, subscribers, and followers. This includes opinion articles, informative articles, themed social media posts, interviews, podcasts and any other format that engages our members. You will also assist the Writing & Editing coordinator in preparing the bi-monthly newsletter.

As a volunteer of WiE, you also have the opportunity to attend volunteer-exclusive trainings, WiE events, and to work with other teams, especially the Social Media Team, in helping with any content, prose or editing that they may need.

As a Writing & Editing member you will contribute approximately 2 hours per week in cooperation with existing WiE members to:

- Brainstorm and create new content with other members of the Writing & Editing team
- Lead your own content projects
- Work with the social media team to create engaging online content for Twitter, LinkedIn, YouTube, Facebook, Instagram, Spotify and TikTok

We are looking for teammates with:

- a drive and passion for gender economics, women in the field of economics and related topics
- the ability to produce high-quality written and creative work both independently and collaboratively
- experience with, or express interest in, writing opinion articles, blogposts and similar
- native or high-level English abilities (C1+)

We want to build a diverse organisation with a variety of perspectives on women in economics. We welcome relevant input from people of every gender, age, ethnicity, religion, sexual orientation, ability, background and sector.

If you are interested in joining the WiE team, please email jess@women-in-economics.com a short introduction, including your relevant experience and motivation to apply for this role, with your CV attached.
